VMC - Vienna Music Connection – was founded in 2008 by the Argentine baritone Iván Paley and the Colombian trombone player Rodrigo Mora. For several years, and in the course of their successful international careers, both artists gathered important experiences in PR and marketing and decided to develop a new form of management and PR. VMC is an innovative artist agency. Its concept is not to separate artist PR from artist placement.

It's not only what you know, but who knows you.
